REPLACEMENT OF COMPUTER SEQUENCE LISTINGS UNDER 37 CFR 1.825

Sir:

The above noted application contains DNA sequences, and although Applicant believes that such sequences were properly submitted on diskette, apparently the Office has no record of receiving such diskettes.

As noted in the petition filed on December 5, 2007, to withdraw a holding of abandonment in this case, Applicant believes that the sequence listings were properly and timely submitted on May 23, 2006.

Applicant also notes with gratitude a telephone call received on March 17, 2008, from Mr. James Thomson of the Office of PCT Legal Administration, in response to the petition filed Applicants: Matthew Pellegrini et al.

Application No.: 10/542,255
Docket No.: 1368-8 PCT/US
Replacement of Computer Sequence Listings Under 37 CFR 1.825

December 5, 2007. Mr. Thomson informed Applicants that there was no record of an electronic submission actually received by the Office.

In order to resolve the question of whether sequences were in fact received in proper form by the Office, Applicants enclose herewith two copies of the sequence listing on CD for this application in conformance with 37 CFR 1.825.

There has been no change to the sequence listings submitted herewith. The only addition is the data in computer readable form.

Applicant believes no fee is due with this submission. Applicant believes this application is now in condition for examination.

Respectfully submitted,

Andrew H. Berks
